

HOPE
UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

October 2023

It is no wonder that when we are generous, our very health, relationships and well-being increases and our communities and God's world benefit.

Imagine your heart as a well, with generosity being the water that fills it. When you give, it's like pouring water into your well, enriching not only yourself but also those around you. Practicing genuine generosity where we expect nothing at all in return isn't always easy. Often, that's because we think these gestures need to be grand in order to be worthwhile.

At a recent outing to Altoona Family Restaurant, members of Hope UMC were surprised by an act of generosity. As they were nearing the end of their meal, the owner of the restaurant came out to explain that a gentleman, who had already left, had paid for the group's entire meal- all TEN of them! While not a world changing act, it was certainly grand enough! And it opened the door for the recipients to "pay it forward" as this type of act of generosity come to be known.

But wait...maybe it was enough to change the world. "It only takes a spark to get a fire going" (as it says in one of my favorite hymns, "Pass It On.") Perhaps you've heard the saying, "Be the change you wish to see in the world." The ripple effect of generosity can be vast – it sets off a chain reaction that reaches far beyond the immediate recipient of your kindness. As each person passes on the gesture, we see the potential for a kinder world emerging. All it takes is one act of generosity to start this process.

Acts of generosity don't have to be grand gestures; even small acts can reap abundant benefits. When you give freely without expecting anything in return, you create a powerful social connection. You're not only enriching someone else's life but also enhancing your own mental and physical health. The benefits in life associated with generosity extend beyond the immediate joy that comes from altruistic action - they touch on everything from improved relationships to increased self-esteem.

The Wesleyan movement got the name "Methodists" as a nick name or "cat call" aimed at John Wesley and the Holy Club at Oxford. They were methodical in living out their faith. They methodically, relentlessly visited prisons and hospitals and cared for the hungry and poor.

So much of the focus over the history of the church has been on its Orthodoxy, meaning "right beliefs," what Wesley called works of piety. But Wesley and others seeking to live the "Jesus way" across the centuries also have sought to incarnate their theology. They sought to put their beliefs into action through "right practices," Orthopraxis, or what Wesley called works of mercy.

There is great gain in a relationship with God (that is, godliness) that is lived out with contentment and in community. As we "live to give," a number of health indicators improve.

As a congregation, we will be studying how God has created us to be generous. Through a four-part series throughout October, our congregation is going to focus on generosity. This series is designed to help individuals and families reflect on God's generosity and then in turn understand that we are in fact woven together as human beings, created in the image of this generous God for community with one another.

"For it is in giving that we receive." –Francis of Assisi

In Christ's Love,

Pastor Jen

Worship for October- Generous

We get lots of messages about what is important, what the “good life” is, and everything we need to do – and have – to achieve it. Still, so many of us remain unsatisfied, chasing after the next thing in search of fulfilment. But there is good news for us! God desires for us to have lives of contentment, freedom from worry, and joy in abundance. And Jesus shows us the way there. As we learn how to find our contentment in God, we will also discover the beauty in giving. Our lives will be evidence that the good life is the generous life – a life through which the grace of God flows into the world.

October 1st- World Communion Sunday

“Living With Abundance”

Matthew 6:24-34

What we focus on gets magnified. We are invited to seek the kin(g)dom of God and experience a growing trust and freedom from worry.

October 8th

“Finding Our Contentment in God”

1 Timothy 6:6-12

When we find our contentment in God, we are freed for a changed perspective on money – no longer all-important for our happiness, but rather a tool to be used in our lives.

October 15th- Laity Sunday

Matthew 25:14-30

Laity Sunday is a day set aside to remember and lift up a constant reality: the priesthood and ministry of all. Every person on the planet is invited to share in God’s community of healing, love, justice, and world repair.

October 22nd

“The Flow of Grace”

Ephesians 3:5-12

Just as God’s grace flows from Christ to the church, we are called to be conduits of grace to bless the world.

October 29th

“Abundance in Community”

John 6:1-14

Though we may, at times, face scarcity, Jesus receives what we offer, blesses it and provides for us and through us.
